Amore è... piume, ruches e pizzi d'autore. Uniti per sempre non solo nel giorno del sì, ma anche nella vita (sociale): merito di abiti multitasking, corti, lunghi, più o meno osé. La festa continua vs.

WARM

Colors are commonly divided into two categories: warm and cool colors. Warm colors such as red, orange, yellow, and combinations of these provide the illusion of heat and warmth because they remind us of sunlight or heat. Visually, warm colors will appear closer or like they are advancing towards you. Cool colors such as blue, purple, and green provide a sense of calm and relaxation because they are a visual reminder of elements of nature like water, sky, and grass. Opposite to warm colors, cool colors look as though they are further away or receding from us. Surrounding yourself with the right colors can improve your mood, relieve stress, and help you get a good night's sleep.

So how do you pick the right colors for yourself? The most important thing is to create an environment that will have the right amount of both colors and will not side too heavily in one direction
